I would like to add my voice to those who do not want to see WalMart enter the financial industry. WalMart has presented false testimony at hearings concerning their intentions. A WalMart bank would damage the local financial community, as it's megstores do the local economy. So much power should not be concentrated in the hands of such a huge corporation, which has too often proven itself to be lacking in integrity. WalMart's only interest seems to be it's own bottom line!

Thank you for your consideration.
